DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 5-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because

Despite the express language of §101, several judicially created exceptions have been established to exclude certain subject matter as being patentable subject matter covered by §101. These exceptions include “laws of nature,” “natural phenomena,” and “abstract ideas.” See Diamond v. Diehr, 450, U.S. 175, 185, 209 USPQ (BNA) 1, 7 (1981). However, courts have found that even if an invention incorporates abstract ideas, such as mathematical algorithms, the invention may nevertheless be statutory subject matter if the invention as a whole produces a “useful, concrete and tangible result.” See State Street Bank & Trust Co. v. Signature Financial Group, Inc. 149 F.3d 1368, 1973, 47 USPQ2d (BNA) 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1998). The Manual of Patent Examining Procedure reiterates this point. More specifically, MPEP 2106(II)(A) states, “The claimed invention as a whole must accomplish a practical application. That is, it must produce a ‘useful, concrete and tangible result.’ State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373, 47 USPQ2d at 1601-02.” In the instant case, the claims merely recite a series of abstract ideas, which together form a mathematical algorithm per se. There is no practical application recited in the claims. Therefore, the claims are not eligible for patent protection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3711

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tzeng (5,938,204).

Regarding claim 11, Tzeng et al discloses an amusement device comprising a playing field containing a plurality of different surfaces (various indoor or outdoor playing fields) and a plurality of different objects (colored balls); a first and second robot and a first and second team for operating the first and second robot (see column 4, lines 25-45). The winner is the team with the highest score (see column 3, lines 1-6).
